*Sassello,
not only porcini
and amaretti*

The Cultural Association Segnalibro was founded in 2002 in Sassello, instead of a bookshop that was just closing up and that was therefore taken over. We, its founders, were in fact moved by the conviction that also in a little hamlet laying in the western hinterland of Liguria, like Sassello, it would be important to sell books and spread culture. Our experience taught us immediately we were keen also on organising events.

Over the past years our little piazzetta in the centre of the hamlet and the two-hundred seat Parish Theatre have been hosting artists and journalists (among others Massimo Bubola, Lalli, Gian Maria Testa, Ascanio Celestini, Moni Ovadia, Don Gallo, Daniele Gaglianone, Eliana Miraglia, Ennio Remondino, Lina Sotis, Giovanni Straniero, John Vignola, Guido Festinese), creating intense moments of intellectual and cultural debates, while the gorgeous yard before the Castle of the State Forest has been the stage for performances and artists' shows.

Our bookshop can offer all the editorial novelties, though not disdaining the small local publications and all those individual stories that can contribute to set up the memories of the whole community.

We invite to join us in Sassello, not only to wander through our wonderful woods and to taste our amaretti and our mushrooms, but also to discover an amazingly vivid reality that will seize You.
